GOLDEN YEAR ; GOLDEN ATTAINMENTS ; GOLDEN HOPES NEW YEAR GREETINGS - 2012

Completion of fifty successful and eventful years on the part of an institution is, indeed, a historic and remarkable phenomenon leading to celebrate the Golden Jubilee year. While celebrating the Golden Jubilee year, the concerned organization along with its members and inmates get an opportunity to review the past, assess the present and design the future. . .

Our beloved University, popularly known as Rashtriya Sanskrit Vidyapeetha was established in the year 1961 by the Govt. of India with a generous support of TTD with a noble objective to preserve, promote and propagate Sanskrit, Indian culture and moral education in the country and abroad. Time and Tide wait for none. Men may go and men may come ; but I shall go for ever. Our institution, like an ever-flowing river, has not only completed fifty years of its successful existence; but also continues to march ahead without caring for the ups and downs with a sole intention of meeting the ocean-like sublime goals. During the celebration of the Golden Jubilee year, the inmates of the institution have got an opportunity to derive inspiration from the glorious past and project the present in a befitting manner. Needless to mention that our attainments, particularly during the Golden Jubilee year, have become unique and extraordinary in terms of academic excellence and infrastructural development.

One year ago, the Golden Jubilee year was inaugurated jointly by both of our Hon'ble Chancellor, Dr.J.B.Patnaikji, His Excellency, Governor of Assam and Dr. D.Purandeswari, Hon'ble Minister of State, Govt. of India, HRD and a series of plans and programmes were envisioned for the successful celebration of the Golden Jubilee year.

The vision document for Golden Jubilee Year Celebrations included a number of programmes viz (i) Completion of various civil projects like construction of Neelachal Boys' Hostel ; construction of Anand Bazar Dining Hall ; construction of the 2nd Floor of the Guest House ; development of Play Ground, construction of University Canteen and Health Centre, construction of Additional Academic Buildings and other works ; (ii) Publication of fifty useful, prestigious and well-researched books on various branches of Sanskrit and Indian philosophy by eminent scholars of the country; (iii) Organisation of National level Seminars, Symposia and Conferences etc. ; (iv) Organization of some National level Seminars exclusively for women scholars, and so on and so forth.

Today, on the eve of the concluding days of the Celebration, while taking the stock of the situation, we proudly announce that all these programmes, we conceived, have been executed successfully.

Thanks to the CPWD, that undertook all the civil projects and handed over the completed works within stipulated period and the Vidyapeetha was fortunate enough to get all these newly constructed buildings and civil works inaugurated by our Hon'ble Chancellor, Dr. J.B.Patnaikji, H.E. the Governor of Assam in the august presence of a galaxy of distinguished dignitaries during the last Convocation. Seminars, Symposia and workshops on various topics of Sanskrit and interdisciplinary subjects as planned by various departments were organized successfully with the participation of a number of reputed Sanskrit scholars from across the country. The most striking feature of the Golden Jubilee year was the organization of the 45th Session of All India Oriental Conference (AIOC) in which nearly three thousand participants took part and presented their research papers. These papers are being edited by the scholars and the University is planning to publish the proceedings containing the selected papers for the benefit of the scholars, researchers and readers. Another important and memorable achievement is our Golden Jubilee publications. To mark the completion of 50 years of existence, the Vidyapeetha has brought out fifty prestigious publications in a record time of one year with the tireless efforts of the eminent scholars and colleagues. All these precious volumes will be formally released in the ensuing valedictory ceremony of the Golden Jubilee year to be organized very shortly. In order to establish the theory of women empowerment in Sanskrit, the Vidyapeetha conducted a National level Seminar on "Contributions of Sri Krishna Devaray to Sanskrit Literature" and the seminar was meant exclusively for women scholars of the country. Next step in this direction is to organize an All India Sanskrit Women Scholars' Conference to highlight the significant contributions of women Sanskrit scholars and the philosophy of empowerment of women in Sanskrit literature. The list of other activities of the Vidyapeetha including the introduction of a number of Innovative Courses and Special Assistance Programmes (SAP) in various subjects that brought laurels to the institution is also long and encouraging.

No doubt, these attainments of the University are unique in nature and golden in standard. Golden achievements during Golden Jubilee Celebrations provide us an opportunity to remember the glorious Golden past of our esteemed institution. In fact, old is gold and one requires to draw inspiration from the Golden past to make the present more vibrant and effective. Let us offer our salutations and tributes to those who have not only built this institution from brick to brick but also framed a vision paper for its further development in the years to come. This is our foundation, our asset and our treasure.

It is heartening to note that at no point of time, our institution has dissociated itself from the mainstream requirement of the society meaning thereby the organization has substantially contributed to the growth of the nation. Growth of each and every individual unit of the country is a factor responsible for the growth of the nation. Like an organization, a nation also requires a glorious past, glamorous present and bright future for its all round development. In the context of our beloved nation, Sanskrit is intimately connected with our glorious past, shining present and ambitious future. Hence, there is a strong need for the further development of all the Sanskrit organizations of the country including ours for which it is high time to cherish golden aspirations and adopt golden resolutions.

ADDRESS OF CHANCELLOR :

I congratulate Prof. H K Satapathy for his re-nomination as the Vice-Chancellor of the Tirupati Rashtriya Sanskrit University. Under his stewardship this University has made phenomenal progress. It has acquired a certificate of excellence. The duty of a Vice-Chancellor is to create an inspiring leadership among the teaching and non-teaching staff and the students of the University. There should be total cooperation and cordiality among the members of the University. Our age is a competitive one and all of us should see that this University does not fall behind both in terms of qualitative and quantitative progress.

This University has maintained that atmosphere of peace, cooperation and cordiality as a result of which, during the last few years many new studies have been introduced and buildings come up to accommodate them. Many useful and important publications have come out in order to commemorate the Golden jubilee year of the University. University Grants Commission is much impressed with its progress and the Government of India, Ministry of Human Resource Development has come out generously to meet the needs of the University. The University has a plan to prepare and publish a multilingual dictionary of Indian languages, which would be a unique one of its kind.

The University is not just an institution to issue degree and doctorate certificates. It must be a storehouse of knowledge, disseminating knowledge to all seekers, coming under its portals. It must produce excellent teachers in order to educate the masses living outside, particularly the illiterate and the half-literate. In our country, today, we have several IITs, more than 500 Universities and many famous Central Institutes of Research and Development.

But the ranking, however, of our Universities in the world is still deplorable. According to Times Higher Education supplements our IITs ranked 50th in the world, IIMs 84th and the famous JNU is placed as 192nd. China is far ahead of us. The Beijing University is ranking 15th in the world.

In ancient times, students were attracted from all over the world to study in our Universities like Nalanda, Takshyashila, Pushpagiri etc.

अस्मद्देशप्रसूतस्य सकाशात् अग्रजन्मनः ।

स्वं स्वं चरित्रं शिक्षेरन् पृथिव्यां सर्वमानवाः ।।

Today, hundreds of thousands of Indian students are leaving the country for better education to Universities abroad; to Australia, England and the USA. There has been a lot of brain drain in the past. Now the country is making rapid progress and there is no reason why we cannot build world class universities and offer attractive jobs to our doctors, engineers, technicians, scientists and teachers so that they could be fully absorbed in the country's ever expanding economy. When we talk of our educational institutions, they must include the primary and secondary ones, which constitute the foundation of the entire system.

Secondly, while we emphasise on producing more scientists, engineers, doctors and technicians as the country needs a lot many of them, we should not neglect the humanities. A lot more attention should be paid to teaching of subjects like History and Philosophy, the Modern Indian Languages and the study of Sanskrit which is the source of all Indian languages. Some people argue that jobs are few and not so attractive to students in these fields. But this is not true. Let me talk of Sanskrit Universities like this Vidyapeetha. Don't we need people well educated in Paurihitya, in Vastu, in Ayurveda, in Yoga Vigyan, in ecological science etc ? Besides one should not forget one's cultural roots which are morally and ethically sound. Men should not turn into machines to do their exacting jobs in our so-called IT age.

अपृणन्तमभि सं यन्तु शोकारु - ऋ.१.१२५.७ :: May grief, wailing (etc) fall from all sides to the non-giver

Big jobs yes. Big slaves no.

I would appeal to our planners that school education which is the foundation of our higher education of Science and Technology or Humanities should contain a minimum knowledge of Sanskrit which teaches us to be a civilized and cultured human being. Therefore, Sanskrit should be a compulsory subject in school education particularly in our secondary schools. Sanskrit teaches us to be humble.

विद्या ददाति विनयं विनयात् याति पात्रताम् ।

पात्रत्वात् धनमाप्नोति धनाद्धर्मं ततः सुखम् । ।

It teaches us to be the truthful.

सत्यं वद । नानृतम् । सत्यान्न प्रमदितव्यम् ।

It teaches us to be respectful to our parents and teachers -
मातृदेवो भव । पितृदेवो भव । आचार्यदेवो भव । अतिथिदेवो भव ।

It teaches us to do good to others ..

श्लोकाद्धेन प्रवक्ष्यामि यदुक्तं शास्त्रकोविदैः ।

परोपकारः पुण्याय पापाय परपीडनम् । ।

Education should be inclusive and not limited to the privileged few. बहुजनहिताय, बहुजनसुखाय । These are immortal teachings relevant to man in all ages.

Lastly I appeal to the Snatakas that they should continue to have an open mind and relentless quest for knowledge. They should remember that they are the proud citizens of a great country which expects them to give more than what they have received from the society. Service to fellow men can only boost their energy and intellectual pursuits can sharpen their intellect. They should live their life with simplicity, dignity and self-respect.

With these words I close.

In spite of spectacular progress made so far, we have still many more things to do for the further improvement of our beloved institution. We have got miles to go before we sleep and miles to go before we sleep. The woods are lovely, dark and deep. But we have promises to keep. The gradual increase in students' strength during last five years, which is a concrete symbol of development of the institution in terms of quality expansion, has made our task more challenging. Further, we have to take this University to the greater heights and convert it to a world class organisation. Apart from imparting knowledge to our beloved students, we have to be sensitive towards their employment avenues. No doubt, our education in this University has enabled our graduates to stand on their own legs with a sense of courage and confidence ; still I would appeal to my colleagues to act as motivators and facilitators; so that all the pass-outs of my University will stand out in their career both in terms of life and livelihood. Needless to mention that my students are competent enough to grab the opportunities available in the job market in the concerned area. With these words once again I congratulate all the graduates and welcome all the distinguished dignitaries to this 14th Convocation.

May our University further grow from strength to strength with the best wishes of all our friends, philosophers and guides and may Lord Balaji bless all of us.

SPECIAL FOCUS ON SCRIPT & SCRIPTURAL GALARY

A unique project entitled "Script and scriptural galary" was started under centre of excellence programme. This project has two components 1) Scripts Part 2) Scriptural Part.

It deals with the evolution of Indian languages. The project is an extension of the earlier project on ancient Indian scripts. It is well known that Indian scripts have their origin in the Brahmi script. The origin and development of various scripts of India, the different stages of evolution, the different language families, literary and archaeological evidences etc. is the subject matter of this gallery. It is of particular interest to Sanskrit students studying Manuscriptology and Palaeography, as it provides the basis of their study and research. The "Lipivikasa Pradarshini" is a laboratory for knowing the origin of different scripts for the benefit of more than 1000 students of Vidyapeetha, in addition to other dignitaries or other visitors from various places from India. It is located in the academic building of the Vidyapeetha.

Sanskrit Institute at Tirupati

Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, Vice-President of India, said in Tirupati on January 4 that it was his wish and prayer that the students of Sanskrit should work hard and promote the progress of our culture in the same way as our great Acharyas, such as Sri Sankara, Sri Ramanuja and Sri Madhwa did in the past. Dr. Radhakrishnan laid the foundation-stone of the Central Sanskrit Institute, at Tirupati on a 40-acre plot attached to the Sri Venkateswara University Campus.
