

1.1.4

All Syllabi related to Sanskrit/Shashtra subjects are available through Sanskrit medium.

1.1.4 All Syllabi related to Sanskrit/Shashtra subjects are available through Sanskrit medium.

Give Details of the UG and PG Syllabus prepared in Sanskrit.

Provide total no. of Courses, course wise details with total number of available versions in Sanskrit.

National Sanskrit University deems a great pride in teaching all courses of different programs at UnderGraduate, Post Graduate and research level through Sanskrit medium except vernacular languages and modern subjects.

Sanskrit is the medium of teaching for all courses related to shastras and Sanskrit language in the Prak-shastri program. At Undergraduate level, there are 229 core courses offered in Sanskrit medium such as Sahitya, Vyakarana, Nyaya, Jyotisha, Vedanta, Sankhya yoga, Mimamsa, Vedabhashya, Puranetihasa, etc which have two Courses each in every semester, based on the concerned shastras from Sem-I to Sem-VI. Apart from these courses, Sanskrit course as second language and most of the courses that are enlisted as conventional and vocational electives such as Archakatva Pourohitya, Puranapravachanam, and communicative Sanskrit are taught in Sanskrit.

All the 440 courses in traditional Sastric PG Programs such as Sahitya(Kavya and Alankara vargas), Vyakarana, Nyaya, Jyotisha, Dvaita Vedanta, Advaita Vedanta, Visishtadvaita Vedanta, Sankhya yoga, Mimamsa, Vedabhashya, Puranetihasa and Dharmasastra are offered and taught in sanskrit medium. Apart from these Sanskrit/sastra related courses such as Natural Language Processing and Sabdabodhamimamsa in interdisciplinary PG Programs and courses such as Inclusive Education, Educational Psychology, etc. in Professional PG Programs impart education to students by deploying Sanskrit as the medium of instruction.

At research level, there are two parallel course works i.e One in Sanskrit Sastras and the other in the Department of Education. Course work in Sanskrit Sastras contains three papers i.e Paper 1 consists of Part A: Research Methodology and Part B: Survey/ review of the published research papers and theses in the relevant field. Paper 2 consists of Part A: Sanskrit language skill and training for preparation of theses and Part B: Computer Applications. Paper 3 consists of Part A:Research Ethics and Part B; Manuscriptology and Textual Criticism. All the above said courses are taught in Sanskrit except Computer Applications.

Likewise, the Department of Education also has four papers in which Paper 1- Educational Research Methodology, Paper 2 - Research & Publication Ethics, Paper 3- Data Processing & Computer Applications, Paper 4 consists of Part A: Survey/ review of the published research in the relevant field; Part B :Sanskrit language skill and training for preparation of theses which are taught through Sanskrit. All the above said courses are taught in Sanskrit except Data Processing & Computer Applications.

Medium of instruction & examination for all traditional courses at UG & PG Programs is Sanskrit only.

Total number of courses in Undergraduate and Postgraduate programs which are taught in Sanskrit medium are about 692 in number.